ALL HUMAN LIFE - for sale

A friend told this story to your IT reporter a few days ago. It was the morning after the Electric Garden opening. I asked whether hustlers, such as the ones we had seen the night before, had ever tried to move in to make money from his scene.

(Michael Abdul Malik, alias Michael X, now Michael de Freitas, leader of RAAS, an organisation whose activities are described, in part, below, and DEFENDER, the only effective legal action group in England -- watch IT 15 for more on the law and your rights.)

What follows is a brief comment on the two-part story by the first section involves temptation by the IRRESPONSIBLES. The second section written by Frances Dove, publicity head of RAAS, project a plan for night action and extreme conditions. The first, though sensational, serves as instructive parable to those who abnegate personal responsibility and take aides with the heavies, the flim-flam boys. The second, in contrast to the first, outlines a programme of self-help designed to meet an organic need.

One more word about the personalities of those involved in the hustle.

The EDITOR mentioned, as you might guess, is the same one who screamed 'Impossible' at you and you and me, and who admits receiving paid prior information about the IT list (see No. 10). The HOST IT is a man of varied but tumbling duplicity has blown his cover in other ways. Although Jewish, under another name he is the to be in the highest ranks of Colin Jordan's Neo-Nazi party. Does this make your flesh crawl? Read on if you will

"I want to help you" he said. "For some months now my associates and myself have been observing you and your doings in wonderful ways but in need of help. My organisation tells me to be sure of such people as them. The circumstances under which I came there were very humorous. I was told by a mutual friend that they wanted to speak to me but instead spoke of them in the form of writers that straight people turn on when their symbols of millionaire on of very successful businessmen grotesquely and they asked to meet me. I was told that were very pleased and was advised on how to dress when I met them. Finally a date was set, and I went to their office with one of my white friends for company. There they sat in Fat Boy's room. For the first time in my life I was in the presence of two white men who were not afraid to look me in the eye. I was very impressed. I was told that they were very interested in my activities and that they would like to help me in any way they could. I was told that they were very rich and that they had many friends in high places. I was told that they were very generous and that they would like to help me in any way they could. I was told that they were very rich and that they had many friends in high places. I was told that they were very generous and that they would like to help me in any way they could.

Continuing from the first part of this story, I had a meeting with the two men. I was told that they were very rich and that they had many friends in high places. I was told that they were very generous and that they would like to help me in any way they could. I was told that they were very rich and that they had many friends in high places. I was told that they were very generous and that they would like to help me in any way they could.

With great sadness and clenched teeth we report the sentencing to nine months in Prison of Mr. John Hopkins, one of the editors of the International Times, the creator of U.F.O., the man who made the fourteen hour Technicolour Dream and the man who, until now, loved everyone.

There will be an International Times Supplement dealing with this in detail in a week.

With love and concern for you all,

What with the recalls from the aggressively commercial scene at the Electric Garden, and the sad horror of the con attempted on Michael X this issue could almost have been a special on hustling. But all this talk about hustlers seems both irrelevant and irreverent this evening as I write this, because Someone who is very important in several senses to both myself and to the scene as a whole is in custody tonight. And nonenal except perhaps a very old man in a very high place) can know what is going to become of him. John Hopkins had always been one of the main muscles in the heart of both the newspaper and of what is now known as The London Underground. Like those who either read labels or who make their living from other people's words) The men who drives our UFO is in the hands of the enemy. The enemy who can laugh over drinks and admit privately that "of course we realize that the present drug legislation is very unrealistic,' and the next day send a leering, frosting person to a mind-destroying jail.

Just in case there is going to be a final judgement (and it may be wisest anyhow)it seems that one is going to have to sever relationships with these bastards once and for all so as to have no involvement in their inhumanity which is costing us a fortune)! Don't buy things from them you can buy from your friends, Don't tell them anything. Don't let them show you off as a demonstration of their own goodness If you don't turn your parents on, turn on them, Remember– your father thinks that the police are right and you are confused. Admit to yourself that your mother pretends you have no genitals. Realize that they drink and get high and feel great, and you do other things and get high and they shit on you. They will not come when you are locked up or locked up because they brought it on your

Dear Jerk Mean

Oh. The frustrations of freelance writer with no contract from mor but my writing is appalling Please the terms of the act of IT 13 hundred Cornorship British I'd vout giv ing him car rm to it.

I hold no brief for Brie Calder Once he had the MS I never of mure or Merch told me in Jerse he was enthusiastic and would like publish it didn't give me a penny didn't send me a notice didn't answer my letters–send in November when rember pressure from the Society of Authors to get the MS back the book hopefully was destroyed and it has never said and never will be–

Why is it when someone gets rp for a stephoxed and smokes pharmacists like the police should be free to purchase all books or try editor or secretary for published literature seems to me that it is time for the girls who murder the book possible. The author? Does the destroyer smidgein of consideration?

Last git stair lasts on record. Doing what Mandry Korbo (with Tom Cobbing at all events) could do, my markings by at least a third And in case you didn't know Richard Findlater's survey of the British writers showed that only about a sixth of them make over £1 000 a year anyway Alan Bennett than 1 800 copies of the British edition of a book 12 000 under my slatons at present being in England I shall not be imported into print as they only sell in libraries with about paying the author a cent

This brings it to the Lord of the Rings trilogy goddamn it Houghton Mifflin the American publishers pirated them with a vengeance in pirating between them. They didn't think the book was going to be popular enough to worry about and as a result, it didn't bother for pressure from my member of professional organizations (including Society of Authors Writers of America with I belong to) that eventually shamed the pirate into paying up Tolkien wouldn't have received any royalties at all on a paperback version which sold in the hundreds of thousands

So it rippled to that on the topy of Catch 22 is Internet which misleads Mankind? True But somebody's died and it probably wasn't a publisher There's no law between serial rights sold to a magazine and book rights and it somehow had bothered to think of Burt Penguin wouldn't have a room short on my own to get my magazine pages but it doesn't Interfere with my book deals

So it's infuriating to have to wait and wait to see Crerley's For Love? True But why didn't Jim reinterpolate include a line making saying that the rights return has been sold elsewhere if the book doesn't come out within some reasonable time? An author can do this–I know because I've–and a publisher who sees his reference payment going for nothing because he's been "dilatory gets the finger out and the book

I'll tell you why not by the way–answering that question in the last paragraph Because virtually every full regarding author remember first's himself glad to get any money at all out of something he's written A bookseller's regular skirmish the sale price of a book in this country is round third and some times two rarely the rather gets 10 times their bill of their 15 less their half)

Of course rathers wouldn't be any where without booksellers and I'm bloody glad Better Books and Marion Boyars and the rest of them exist—I wish there were more like them But where would booksellers be without writers?

Sincerely
JOHN BRUNNER

What happened in the Electric Garden? Well I was on a platform and the audience was there in front of it. We were communicating A hemispheric vibration was there growing. It was very quiet, very ritual Then something happened Complaints shouts and objections from the current of the room Maybe the world is so repressed that some people just can't stand silence They're so insecure that they need music guarding into their ears to tell them they are alive We were all just very silent because we were communicating with each other It was a peculiar thing Then Tony Cox came and told us that we had to stop and leave the joint because the owners of the joint didn't like what I was doing and they wanted me to sing, that threats were made by the owners that we would not get out of the joint alive etc I looked at the audience Tony looked dark I wanted to say something but the microphone had been cut off We had to go I was hurried away to the car outside The police came in Was all this necessary? I think that people should make it a rule to take off their pants before they fight.

Later people commented on my having accepted to perform there They said I should have known that it was what people listen baby to me– any scene can be a bad scene or a good one I don't have any preconception or in what terms is in on it. All I know is that I had a thirst for a beautiful scene People long for things like that and the nerve energy I felt very bad that room tonight in the end once friendly ramm all the way in practice prin in the event Some people probably read the ten bob to get in I still can't get over the Thursday talk that on the Electric Garden audience my part was deliminated I was in third and Then Cox was physically attacked and threatened we should make a point first and of all that is our social responsibility in Mr Moore Should we be insulted those were not the most regrettable things that happened that night and later Let's not throw hot objection at each other Let's all be beautiful together Love

LETTER

21st April 1967

Dear Mr Martin

It must be a surprise for you to receive a letter from me unknown prisoner presently interested in a protest story of Korea This sudden letter is to thank you for reading my poor interesting and explosive magazine "International Times" every time I've been receiving it thrice page new and enjoyed reading it very much I think it must be by the request of Mr Sparks a friend of mine here in London that you came to send your magazine to me If not impossible because I do really enjoy reading its very many erotic articles Judging from its articles it must be a magazine of what they call Beatniks professing to that the letters of humor circulation among which are those all war power organised genocide misled opinion on sex censorship snobbery and so on Although I am not a professed British myself I am an intense sympathy with your motive for the liberation of humanity from the yoke of every fictitious civilization proper which contemporary world is based Especially I was interested by the message of some poets submitted to Queen Elizabeth II which appeared on your magazine

If am introduce myself briefly I had been a student of Seoul National University at the Faculty of Political Science but I was jailed because of my role as a student activist. I have been jailed for six years and have two more years to go I expect some good change in my situation after the coming election I am greatly interested in watching your party tendency emerging throughout the world, whatever kind it may be political philosophical musical art or also including journalism of your kind I want you to introduce more details of information about various clubs and associations of outsiders and Beatnik of different countries in Europe and U S A And I have no idea of what Psychodium means nor of what UFO means

As you may well guess I am bored of my drab routine life here so that I do always look for any way to dissipate this tediousness and would you do much to help me get more refreshing information and reading matter tois like your magazine From you hereafter I thank you again for your kindness and wish you continued success and progress to your further efforts to help your migrane go on

Sincerely
Yoo Kun II

P S —Please don't be puzzled at my spelling my name re Yoo which you room is have been suggested to spell as Yu at first it doesn't make any difference as long as both are pronounced same way as (ju)

I left school at the age o e.a. desire lo meet people who share my views There was somerne only one small group living in Stockholm and these I found no completely alienated from all that was taking place around them. But I left Sweden shortly alter. I realised it was of 11 years lalm to a completely changed nation. In rome people seemed to have given up many of the ideas I had been carrying around in my head for years.

I legit really that the classification of a group of people into anarchists is wrong. There are many rarious anarchist classifications who are very antimore or le some aims. But there is only anarchism. The different factions are created only active lime lik Parisian anarchists who attacked a conference of Marshall Plan ministers in Milan they knew all the risks but they would have agreed for this what I stood for can should organise. If a conference of Marshall Plan ministers is a good theatre when many people are willing to be paid to play. Stockholm's answer to this problem was to ask the police to help the Shah and Alfra Gonella to lodge it as part of the down to earth quack against rigid customs.

The dwelled anarchist no small one non unified lolling it is a mere of personalities with no belief. In Gothenburg are centres of lar's nationality Stockholm in the local sense for the Syndicalist Trade Unionists they number about 15 000 members all over the country There are also the Young Socialists who are quite rrlitarrally aligned and more radical in their outlook.

The rarrrlists in Gothenburg they are activists ir Pemparrion No municipal wild the Trade Unions. No I dorrt know what the Swedish Communist they does a power united Stock

The Syndicalist Trade Unionists are rrcrrally brought up a kind of Proud paper called a Salt paper They all rrrrrrrrr for Vulgar Anarchists. Vulgar meaning the kind of lifeon ordinary people do. Salt meaning something you do in the toilet when you scrape your backsides. Because of that is hidden away Something someone doesn t want to be aware of.

I could name hundreds people acting in their military service encouraging people to steal and steal from them. Sabotage is generally installing in the first place

Gr rre the trams without saying refusal to rrrchase so the whole shop anything. Trains is also the Pr rm going to Stockholm Most of them wouldn t want to be killed anarchists but rdrll interests lie in the same direction The one hang ar ng onto the promise to be lord of organisation the rrr just a mood of people who feel in rrans about the establishment

The Syndicalist Trade Unionists are not enlrmal left they do however behave in ordinary workmen unlike fanatics

The rrerire are like only e cor w to speak to do doing anything at all although fairly disorganised they do a been quite successful For exam n Laos was a fine anarchist symbol in Vietnamese War in 1965 It seems now that possibly arrision has turned against its war

STORY OF A NORMAL MAN

by J S McCullagh

The rther day I hrd scrasion to visit the Low Courts in thr Strand ood as I opened my heirtrase ont. ol the Clerks rrmarked upon r nirher I had inside thr flrp of my bag saying

JOIN THE UNDERGROUND I rx plained that II was thr Underground Movrment and r t, as some would suppose, the London Transport Underground.

I hrard someone brhind me makr a derogatory comark, and decided to hovr o discussion rr at least, o onesided argumrnt with him

Idiot They're all queers

Mr Who are all queers?

Idiot All these co rrlled Undergrouna people—I saw them the other evening on B B C 2 lying all over the place at Alexandra Palace, just a bunch of queers in the centre of the floor—all thir sex and drugs. It a filthy?

Me Do you believe all you ree and hrar in the press and Idiot There was one group cutting thr clothes off a girl's back with scissors. I suppose that was a HAPPENING. Why can t they be normal?

Mr Normall What is o normal person?

I read a report recently an Adolf Eichmann and it seems that after rxamination the Psychiatrists pronounced him sanr in othrr words normal, yet he killed all those people

Idiot Had that was war. What we need is o war get you lol conscripted—make MEN of you I did MY two yrars National Service. Two years in the Army would do you thr world of good. It would stop all those drug partios

Me Do you seriously think that that is all we do in our spare time?

Idiot I should know! my clerk was convicted for possessing drugs and got r £70 fine

Me That was just one person out of 1 think 20 million people under the age of 23 in the United Kingdom Do you rver see headlines like "20 teenagers found NOT under the influence of purple hrarts at Dis cotheque" in your copy of the Daily Mirror? The newspapers do not make their money out of writing about the good or usual events, in evryrday life do they?

Idiot Well I rrad the Telegraph

Mr What you go to Temple Station in the rvrning or you rver notice that when the Silhouard portraits Starling Drug Story or something similar many more copies are sold because of the magic word DRUGS?

Idiot I d n t.

How about these pop stars, that you listen to? Most of them can't speak properly Mick Jagger for instance Hrs o bad influence—uneducated lout!

Mr He went to the London School of Economics

Do you really think intelligence is dependent on accent?

Idiot No! (PAUSE)

How about the illegitimacy rate among irregular

Mr A mistake you can called us o lol of quarrrs—what do you want us to do irequent brothers or something?

Idiot. That o the oldest profession in the world rrgwayll o o mainly parsuit—it s normal

Me Mr Brewster II o old makes it good and healthy?

(NO REPLY)

The underground movement is fully in favour of greater freedom They think, and are aware of what is happening around them They are interested in life in politics but most of all in people

Idiot What All those bearrd scruffy queers at demonstrations, waving banners and placards all over the place?

Me Sir if you have o beard you are queer?

Idiot Yes Unless of course you are o naval man.

Me King Edward VII had o beard Was he queer?

Idiot He was o naval man.

(PAUSE)

What you need is r healthy pursuit —sport and kick o football around At least then you will not have time to give yourself r Shot.

Mr Is that what you think our morair amount to?

Idiot Yes What some of these people need is r good wash and rhavrin and I'd like to give II to them I would also like to wash out their filthy minds.

Me Yr may be able to change a persons physical rppearance and you may be able to govern what he says but you cannot change or govern his thoughts

Idiot It II blardywell try

Mr To make them normal?

Idiot Yes Who should they be differ ent? They should be normal—like me

Mr And read thr Telegraph?

Idiot. Yes

Mr And work II o rm to 5 p m. Take their lunch break from 1 p m till 2 p m rvery day Go to Brothrls Do National Service think what they are lrld to think Vote conservativr Fity Gall Degenerair into mind less lumps absorbing rvrrything they are told to B C 2 an d in the Daily Telegraph?

The Low Court clock chimed One O Clock and the Normal Mrn said, Excuse me please? I m just going to lunch

Note—The Idiot lo o barrister clerk, one of thr most important cogs in the justice machine.

JUNGLE BEEF

What strikes mr as appalling about Virl Nam is that rlter all thrse people have been slaughter, thr corpses are then rithrr buried or allowed to be arround rotting This is o waste Why not put the corpses to drep-freeze and ship them stalesidr to hr marhrled? Imagine the rare pleasurr of doing on Vietnam coast lands or better yet, o piece of our of those N Vietnam infiltrators Besides offering most of cheap prices, this would allow ample scope for patriotir demonstratioo

Something very nasty is happening to good old English democracy down in Colchester Essex.

Military police were called in to control a peaceable student demonstration when Harold nymybody's favourite prime minister Wilson arrived to receive an honorary degree from the University of Essex and several students ended up at the local hospital

One girl was said to have had her foot broken after M.P.'s stamped hard —the official military jargon word for how to control crowds without them really dying—and said David Triesman the demonstration organiser two M.P.'s seemed to be throwing one of the girls between them until she just collapsed I overheard one say it wasn't as much fun as stamping back the wogs in Aden Another M.P. asked David Triesman to take off his glasses so he could hit him

Then students were demonstrating against the cost of installing Lord Butler as University Chancellor and the Vietnam war Earlier David Triesman had gone to the trouble of telling the local fuzz that the demonstration would be peaceable and responsibly conducted And say the students so

It was until the civilian fuzz called in the redcaps.

The military were already attending the function for ceremonial reasons and were enlisted by the local constabulary when they say the students started a disturbance.

The local paper reported a police spokesman as saying When a request is made the military police are bound to come to the aid of the civil authorities to much the same way as any private citizen If this is true and as private citizens are bound by law to follow the instructions of any police man then any two-bit station inspector can declare martial law as and when he wishes

Indeed, Chief Superintendent Norman Wood of Colchester Police hrs acenly admits For some time we and the military police have been having joint patrols in the town of nights. Purpose undisclosed.

Students at the university have kicked up hell about the way the demonstration was handled and are pressing their M.P.'s for a Home Office inquiry Which of course means that their protests will come full cycle back to dear old pillar-of-democracy socialist Harold Wilson—a most sympathetic one

LIGHT SHOW

Using a straight lecture still projector Dr Schrsch started probing moving colour slides with special liquid materials way back in the winter of 1959/60 Between that time and the formation of the Code Gallery in Spring 1965 new portraits in the personal light and environmental spread and intensified into a loose area of activity—one outcome of which is Kinetic Art.

Another outcome was the Code Gallery called the first Psychedelic Art Gallery and had as its members a group of psychologists which included Leary and Alpert the Mel Ks community Bronny Kramer J U I U K (who is now the owner of the New York Head Shop) George Sadler (who is writer PSY actions Dicken & Annes In lighting and mobile art sculpture) and of Hugh Dan Smythe Art well or lecture and discussions etc there were a rush hour at the Gallery the one that lasted four months during which the Gallery closed in a state of Bankruptcy

In the autumn of 1965 Stuart Rickman (just one example) proprietor of his home made light machine out of his window onto the wall of the building next door This was a time when many people among them Richard Aldcroft, starting experimenting with light machines in their own apartments

USCO was a general fusion of people in New York who were interested in the new concept of light shows They did a number of total environment shows using lighted sculpture and painting and light performer

In the summer of 1966 Jackie Cerrer red Rich Serra brought to New York the overdirect projector light show which had already been in use in California for some time They did a number of big fits with Jerry and USCO and later opened the ripoff called the Trips Festival in the Rock The club closed after only a few weeks

Working on the old ballroom the Avalon and Fillmore halls and the Trips festival Bill Graham one and a Freedom called Carlyan opened the Cheetah — a $1 million concept designed for mass-appeal and big profits

But in the winter of 1965/7 the hippies scored by creating the first Rock Flow—a gigantic total environment show with trains, liquid projections giant mothballs electronic music and mind bending sound freaks and new kinds of PSY groups There were no chairs or tables and things as in the Cheetah and the audience were forced to participate by the action of certain people in PSY costumes who were directed by the organisers The Rock Flow is not a club but rather an anti-organisation which just happens when it does

In the spring of 1967 Group Image was formed which is a parallel to Rock Flow but even more groovy and way-out because they are living communally in a New York loft making their own lighting gear, arranging when it is time for a benefit

In June a reported nearly a $3½ million concept opens in the famous Dom It is to be called the Electronic Circus and is to try to be a cross between the Cheetah and the Rock Flow

WARHOL !

LETRASET instant lettering SHEET 260

Andy Warhol, the nu. creator of the ary affairs—the movie-maker and glass Campbell soup can man—anday ed to London a short while ago on a secret visit

Finding the man who produced the brilliant filmed silver balloons that expanded to fill a room—or dwindled to ordinary size of the window—proved more to simple. First no-one home whom he was coming and when they did he died the all impossible happening of not arriving. But, inevitably Warhol arrived.

His hotel room had two unmarked beds a number of pamphlets on Andy Erin will be back soon. I was told by Erin star of the newest Warhol film "The Chelsea Girls. That could mean Erin hears. Erin then began a monologue that was to last all day.

Five minutes later the band king arrived. Looking like a poem of limp dndy string he untied in a dark spectacled eyebrow from another planet entirely, explaining that any disturbance he might be causing.

We have to leave the hotel he said. We've been thrown out. He then had a short conversation with Eric on the subject of shooting. Then seven of us left the hotel in a taxi bound for Robert Frazer's flat round the corner. Why are we taking a taxi? asked Warhol. Someone replied that he didn't like walking in Grosvenor Square. Warhol dismissed said and I like walking.

Comfortably seated (imp in a suit) Warhol known for being a bit of an enigma, resumed surprisingly readily to chat. With twitching fingers, a large sunbeneil "this and this" and mean means refers to planitary solitude with. I don't know.

Why had he come to London I asked. I'm unplaid. I don't know I guess the group just wanted to come here. I couldn't afford to pay them for working in The Chelsea Girls' so I paid them with the trip.

I don't like travelling much—I went round the world 16 years ago. It took three days and I haven't been since. This time we spent a few days in Paris. It was a drag. I don't like eating—I live on espertol pills and black coffee—and there's nothing in Paris to do but eat. So we ate two meals with Brigitte Bardot.

No I like working—it's so much fun. I don't usually do it all—it just happens amongst us. For instance our latest movie "Twenty Six Hours Since. that we're working on at the moment happened because we'd started a disturbing company. Things just happen to us and back and stored into space.

I asked him what the movie was about. "Well nothing" he said "Then he remembered. "It's about love it has night stars and is about night, Andy's lives. Some of it is fake—them own fantasies—and some real I left it to them.

The people in it include the colourful models International Velvet the ever beautiful Nico Ingrid Superstar and Ultra Violet.

Warhol's clubs The Balloon Farm featuring his group The Velvet Underground and Nico singing comes to London in July.

I found the Velvet Underground over and a ball ago. They've been playing to colleges and are getting more and more people. Last the record somewhere around he asked Paul. We all his sisters found the record with its unusual one big yellow banana. The banana—Warhol's current hang up—peels in show pink underneath.

Sometime Warhol will have an exhibition of the Robert Frazer Gallery. Frazen doesn't know when and Warhol doesn't know what he will put in it. But it will happen that's certain.

Limbs paintings. And I don't think they should be put on walls. They should be played with. Warhol continued. That's why I started making movies—it's like painting on to cinema.

by prue vosper

What does Warhol think about drugs? You have to find the right one for the right person I think that whatever is the nastiest way is the best way—and drugs is the nastiest. It would be so great to be drugged, put in a plane and just get there he said and then started worrying about his jeanny that afternoon back to New York.

Then it was decided they would go shopping and look at Chelsea. So six of us went off to look for a taxi that would take us all. On the way Erin kept up his monologue of dirty stories and Andy sat there nervously looking out of the window. Shy and self-effacing. Andy gives the impression of being the child-conceived of his group.

Then we passed a supermarket. Andy and Co. drived in to buy a load of groches.

He returned to his big bag of chemicals, nuts, currents—and his inevitable sweet—marzipan. Health food he explained.

Later on he thoroughly broke his diet by having a white coffee—and broke his reputation for silence by talking for an hour with a long-haired Chinese salesman.

Half-way [illegible] he left the taxi to collect baggage from his hotel. Then he came back and told us the story of how he got away from his hotel without paying a single thing. I told them right at the beginning that I'd give them a big tip when I left. And just [illegible] I talk the porters that I'd left a lot of money with the manager. [illegible] and he came to see they got it from him. I left the manager nothing.

We laughed and Andy said "That's very funny!

Finally an obvious word of caution. Fix up your stay at one somewhere in private before you get to the meter. When you start this system you quickly realise just what a vast army of waitless there are employed. I have had one smile by in more than one occasion when I was sitting in my car engrossed in rigging up a slip once

beta meta

In the public interest I am posting on to you an experimental method of disguising my pending motives by this method the needle remains fixed at a point which indicates twice the interval picked on Wham the meter has been successfully tampered. The needle will remain at this point until sometime in the following evenings when a warden's eye will perceive that the meter has apparently been ind during the non payable hours

This system is very simple and is as follows before inserting the 6d. in the meter stick a piece of cellotape on it so that the cellotape has a tail extending a little way behind the 6d. The optimum length of this tail has yet to be established and this is where a general effort and collation of results would help. This works often with a tail of 1" but this is by no means a conclusive finding and the ideal length would be found after a few had a knowledge of the mechanical inwards of a parking meter. My own method works on time in town and I pass the information on to you at this very important time when that collant eye effort might speed its perfection. I am not sure what is the ideal breadth or shape of the tail but I have found a ¾" wide sellotape strip seems to work, with the tail of the same width conforming tapered. Sure again to room for experiment.

My own attempts have been only haphazard and employed on the two occasions I was parking meters. What is really needed is a definite application of time with a little entirety of money trying out different shapes and sizes of cellophane and noting premise by the effect of such. The results obtained are varied. Sometimes there is no whirring and winding and when this ceases the needle clicks back to where it was before on access money" so that you have lost your 6d (but a loss which I personally do not begrudge in the cause of science and sanity). Sometimes the motion makes the usual noises and the needle registers the payment to the usual way as, on sixpence-worth (I have not tried this with a shilling piece). And then sometimes—the successful times the needle clinks up and registers twice the period payed for by the inserted coin and it remains stuck at that point. You can safely leave your car there all day then because if it is noticed (and this has not happened to me) one could always say one had slipped out to load more coins in town time to time on that one had just got there etc.

What is really most needed here to forward a reliably successful method is some one acquainted with the exact construction of parking century. Perhaps on appeal among your readership might produce such a person? Failing this, perhaps a student or a graduate of engineering might be able to contribute helpfully. There are other factors which possibly influence success of the method such as the angle the tail makes in the main slot when inserting the coin—the tail of course not to be perpendicular to the coin slot or at varying angles either side. I suspect this does play some part.

The game of hippie is over. We can no longer play at our beliefs. From San Francisco and Berkeley they come to tell us how they were conned out of their head. Watch out Christ warned. O ye of little faith. Negative thoughts are erupting upon London. Do not listen. Believe in yourselves is life. The revolution has begun. Reopen marvellous and yours ideas. You will weary in the battle to drop out. Follies is bullshit always was always will be, individuality counts. If we succeed politics will be obsolete.

Yes, the disillusioned have faith. To you the hustlers beware—this money changer may not enter the temple.

I tell you this as a man who was arrested by politicians and their kind. Their strength is only as good as their ideas. Draw from deep wells for when the heat is on the shallow ones dry up. Have the confidence to go forward into reality. But go with God people go warily be careful watch for false prophets selling lies nothing has that eternal glory on you will perish as all empires have perished. BEATLES

SGT PEPPER'S LONELY HEARTS CLUB BAND

One of the hang-ups on the pop scene is that too many groups have been writing 'psychedelic' music before they have achieved sufficient technical proficiency. The Beatles have evolved until they had thoroughly explored the potential of frenk-enl sounds SERGEANT PEPPER'S LONELY HEARTS CLUB BAND is as it goes its title implies Tripping with this record is a mind-blowing experience. The record is a confirmation of fantastic sound There are no public limits. It is intended to be played right through from beginning to end.

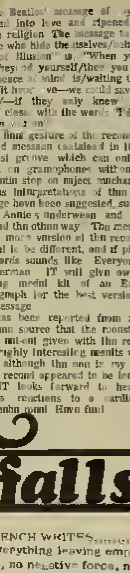
Donald Lewis will use Stereo headphones for optimal clarity. Drugs are down with the record as channels on stereo vibrations of the mind. Sounds swing free and chain it to the album and each sound effects sometimes appear in one channel only musically the record is highly sophisticated, its inspiration coming drawn from multi varied sources as baroque and Indian music Lennon's Dylanesque that is thin range across the surrealist spectrum from Eluard

The Beatles' message of joy has ripened into love and ripened into Hindu religion The message to "the people who hide themselves behind a wall of illusion" is "When you've seen beyond yourself then you may find peace of mind is waiting there

With brass ve—we could save the world/—if they only knew The record closes with the words 'I'd love to turn you on'.

The final gesture of the record is a garbled message contained in its innermost groove which can only be played on gramophones without an automatic stop on reject mechanism Various interpretations of this final message have been suggested such as I see Annie's underwear and Pass it round the other way The message on the mono version of the record is thought to be different, and if played backwards sounds like Everyone is a Superman IT will give away a working model kit of an Edsen Phonograph for the best version of this message

It has been reported from more than one source that the monstacle to the mid-end given with the record gives highly interesting results when eaten although the meal by way of the record appeared to be ineffective IT looks forward to hearing readers reactions to a cardboard moustache mint Rhyn fun!



yes

Jimi Hendrix Mitch Mitchell Noel Redding, three young musicians who since their formation six months ago have been trying night and day to create a new, experimental 'blues' orientated sound using the largest amplification possible, fuzz, tones and wow and mutator effects, delayed and slowed-down tapes, which in combination with full-think guitar and normal speed tracks has produced some of the best sounds of the year. The material contained in the LP is unusually strong, this is just I ups not apparent at first but often two or three times help grows on one at an incredible speed

Mitch Mitchell and Noel Redding produce a highly controllable performance behind the unique guitar of Mr Hendrix, as shown on the version of Fire

The obvious, outstanding feature of the LP is the guitar in the hands of Jimi Hendrix. The record shows many hints of this man's enormous talent. Eric Clapton B B King guitarist Fred Hauser and Hollies fuel on Fire from a Mothers sound on Red Storm Fears by Sam to the unbelievable freak out feedback pull of his own creation Are You Experienced

This LP is definitely worth listening to even if you can not Hendrix fan to see what advances are being made in this realm of music

ON THE GARDEN ?

JOHN FRIDAY MORNING ABIGAIL FRENCH WRITES...

First out, he hadn't got that bloody newspaper in hand

A man claiming to be the owner of the Electric Garden to the editor of IT. A strange comment, considering that IT had been invited the day before to establish a sales stall there You can't sit up there, that for the celebrities that are coming tonight," – one of a great number of very rude, very aggressive bouncers who seem to constitute the main part of the club's staff: spoken to Miles.

Owner of India: Actually, no celebrities came, not surprisingly because it is impossible to talk in Covent Garden and even if you do, a Big Truck is likely to run you down and furthermore you can't get a cab without walking to Trafalgar Square or Kingsway

Such was the opening of the Electric Garden, the UFO for the middle-aged, the Playboy Club for the fantastic left-wing intellectuals. Even sew one person stopping up the CIA spy-spored drivel of EN++++RIP which you never see at Dolly's. The concour of drink terminated in unnoticed anxious aggressive eyes pushed and jostled everyone in unhelpful clothing, vacant-minded bouncers with flashy ugly faces surveyed the crowds like police towers. The energy ideas and youthful beauty of ecstasy groups like TOMORROW and ARTHUR

DOWN was absorbed complacently by the drab, dowdy tide of middle aged 'liberals' who, like some giant leaden assimilated everything leaving empty space, no negative force, no nightin. Presumably they stifled some of it out again over cocktails at ten in a neatly, well ordered manner. The stone floor is cold and slightly damp, the decor is a mixture of the B.B.C. set and U.F.O., the light shows are drab and insignificant, tame and underpowered. The stalls are badly placed, one with column right in front of it, hastily jointed scaffolding hold the 1000's of pounds of lighting equipment the Big claim to have, the hand to see where the £35,000 has gone – It is sure however that the sole aim of Jessie Reid and Paul Weidman is to get it back as soon as possible – for God's sake make sure that they don't get it back from you! You can't buy atmosphere and relaxed beautiful people with money – and IT shows!

THERE ON MONDAY MORNING JUDY GEMES WRITES...

What the fuck is happening on this scene? Where is the real threats emerge from? The establishment and fuzz? No! Now that was yester day's naivety there are real evil vibrations within the scene, which if not blocked may just blow the whole thing apart.

The frauds and hustles with Alexandra Park ticket breed showed that some folk forgot all their beautiful ideas at night time, that's personal and small minded. Last night's session at the Electric Garden exposed groups of hard cash magisters (Jessa Reid, Peter and Paul Waldman, Ralph Sanders) whose sole intention is to cash in to exploit known artists on the scene and you thnin audience How did this come about?

Who scored? Wake up Jay Landesman you're the connection

11 p.m. Saturday 28th May Yoko Ono and Tremo arrived at the Electric Garden in perfume at 11.45 p.m. Hallooms from covered with threads of silk and David Medalle dancers, finally given in very noisy pop group play to 300 noisy neg-people typanjoy less movers. 11.25 p.m. in body guarded by the club owners and club designer Peter Dain meet to vote on allowing Yoko to perform as scheduled Jess Reid controlling shine Waldman voted Waldman brothers didn't want Yoko to interupt the prevailing mood (heavy drinking) Peter Dale in Tony Cox. You're not going to perform that shit here

11.30 p.m. Jay Landesman persuades the performers to go on John Latham hangs Peter Dain organise the sabotage Electricians to kill Yoko's mike DJ John Anthony plans to cut in with recorded music

11.45 p.m. Sam Gopal offers Yoko his microphone no use, Yoko continues

Tony Cox makes his way to tape deck to cut interrupting blast, is grabbed by part owners Brian Wald man dragged into caveman throws on floor smashed Jay tries to break it up is also attacked.

Waldman to Cox, You'll never get out of this place alive Jay tells Tony to announce to the audience what has happened

Tony Cox announces that the club is run by gangsters, asks IT stewarters to call fuzz Some scene has audience members think its all part of the show mass confusion. Yoko tied with bandages to chair helpless

12.15 a.m. Five fuzz vans arrive Yoko untied, finally quits the stage

12.10 a.m. The office Tw fuzz stand by Cox and Waldman yell abuse threaten each other Landesman meditates tries to call the scene The performers leave unpaid, followed by the entire audience and Night show operators apologising, announcing night managers star, half planning to follow Yoko OUT

Hunt ended in the mess and beginning the power struggle scene visions treacherous completely evil

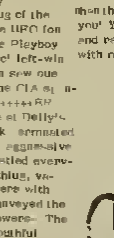
1.45 a.m. Sunday Pharm conversation Landesman tells Judy Gemes many apologies also he has been fired

1.45 p.m. Pharm conversation Landesman tells Tony Cox he has been reinstated in the job of artistic controllion with added powers Jay Landesman says I feel so powerful I don't think I can fink The people responsible for the state (part owners Paul and Brian Waldman designer Peter Dale DJ John Anthony fired.

5.30 p.m. Landesman tells Gemes he now has absolute control, the owners realise the place must be run "With Taste" Sommers and DJ to be fired then Waldman's Mafia and Peter Dale remain silent

Sam say Jess Reid is a harmless American real with vaguely edgy life some possibly Landesman's intentions are clean, to provide the scene with bread and a well equipped professional place but it can't be done this way The underground can't do with real support It will only generate into a commercial racket worse than any its existence protests against! From the sewn fuss onwards the scene is not underground any more no bigger are small groups in private places moving on

Even at U.F.O and Southampton Row bread is changing hands The millioneers are being swagged around (fuzz protectors?) How will we handle the



NETHERLANDS DANCE THEATRE

REVIEW

One of the saddest occasions in JULY 13 was the failure to herald adequately the arrival of the Netherlands Dance Theatre. Sincerest apologies to Miss N.D.T. and to any of our readers who missed them performing there through this deplorable oversight. For it was great. The programme which consisted of Metaphors, Impasse, 5 Sketches and Can you Smirane, was really something special. I had never seen performance by this company in Belfast two or three years ago and their standard of dancing was already high enough to rate them as an European equivalent of the New York City Ballet. To understand why they have improved immensely and the Hans van Manen compositions in this programme were stunning, I must confess that I have seen neither the missing session that Hans Manen was personally present at, Metaphor, but the strength and clarity of his two sections were in the programme plainly him very high in the hierarchy of European choreographers. This company's performance was invariably an evening of very much watchful works immaculately performed.

Unfortunately the evening which began in beauty ended in horror and from my own peace of mind I am glad I do not know what torment, of the mental side of Cerberus Terrance, that was vibrating after Miss Nureyev had left. The thing that puzzled me most about the Netherlands Dance Theatre when I saw them previously was their ruthless attention to detail, particularly in the lighting. This was something which was conspicuously absent from the performance I saw on Saturday night. Both musically and choreographically, everything was right in order, but the whole effect was ruined by technical errors in the production. This I can only assume to be the fault of the lighting engineers, as every single movement was spoiled by the fact that the dancers were constantly in darkness. I am sure that the company are not to blame for this, as with such useless and unprofessional errors in the lighting, they should have a right to expect the evening.

Meanwhile all hail the Netherlands Dance Theatre.

MOVE AT U.F.O.

The Move played last week to the largest crowd U.F.O. has ever had and although judged by normal beat group standards they did a very exciting show I must admit I was somewhat disappointed.

I really expected much more from a group of their reputation and I was constantly thinking—could this really be the group that only a few months ago had them rolling in the aisles at the Marquee?

The Move did two sets of about 40 minutes, which consisted of a total of ten numbers two written by the American Byrds (plus their current hit I Can Hear The Grass Grow and one other).

The second set was just one number the Byrds Eight Miles High. These extremely long numbers are really interesting in their progress on which the emphasis is on the electronic theremin and the oscillations and what sounded like a super amplified humming.

Their light show was minimal just a lot of money as a substitute for thought.

With the Move was a supporting group called the Krank who with the apparently unworkable line up of three guitars bass and drums produced a really fantastic sound. At times the sound is like a compound of Hendrix and Clapton with Townshend underneath. This group took the depressing look of following one of the only's biggest new groups. They really look control and got a tired, sweaty audience jumping again by tapping the Move's out to both length and strength.
